SEVENTH SENSE

33.00m (108'3"ft) | 2008

DESCRIPTION

Built in 2008 by Ferretti, SEVENTH SENSES' sporty exterior, coupled with her grey hull and white superstructure certainly pull focus when arriving in port. At 33m, she is ideal for island hopping and spends much of her season cruising the azure waters of Croatia. A yacht of her size is perfect to explore the 1000 islands of the Dalmatian coast, including: ancient ruins, historic cities, traditional fishing villages and secluded anchorages. Inside, her modern and stylish interior updated and refitted in 2016 is a fusion of neutral colours styled with luxurious fabrics. Large windows in her main saloon provide a cool and calming retreat out of the mid-day sun. The adjoining interior dining area on the bridge deck is also a premium choice for a casual breakfast. Up to 12 guests are accommodated over five cabins in a configuration of three doubles, two twins plus two additional berths.

For those interested in al fresco time, her sun deck complete with jacuzzi is a great spot for whiling the days away with a cocktail in hand, and for those balmy evenings, her bridge deck aft offers another space for dining.

On board SEVENTH SENSE, entertainment is of paramount importance. She comes fully kitted with comprehensive audio-visual systems including Bose surround sound and outside, a fully stocked watertoy box is available with SeaBobs, waterskis and snorkelling gear.

With a professional crew of six, including Captain Tomislav who grew up in Croatia and is happy to exercise his wealth of knowledge in this region, SEVENTH SENSE is available for a charter with family and friends.
